Agent For The Consumer
 Business magazines have recently featured many articles on the efforts of American retailers to obtain better goods at lower prices. And that is a story of direct interest to every consumer, and to every man's pocketbook in these days of depreciated dollars.

Retailers are convinced that prices for many kinds of goods are too high—that it is possible to give more for the money. They are taking that attitude in their dealings with manufacturers. They believe that a good shirt should be available to the public at $2.50 or $2.75 instead of $3.50 or more. They are watching the pennies as well as the dollars. The purpose of all this is to better serve and please a public which is beginning to buy carefully and in minimum amounts. The buyer for a retail store thus becomes, in effect, the agent of the consumer. His interest is the consumer's interest. He knows that there are two gauges of value for any thing—price and quality. And what he is after is the most quality at the least price.

Manufacturers must pass on the increased labor and other costs of the time. But what retailers are doing is to see that the increase is held to the lowest figure—and that, when possible, reductions in price will be made. That is a tremendous service to us all.

POTENTIAL FARM
 total of 17,938 acres that may be devoted to produce raising not taking into consideration the approximately 2000 acres taken up by towns and cities in the district.

He further stated that new dikes have been thrown up by the district and with the absence of high winds and rain they will stand until such time as it takes for the excessive water in the Glades to subside which will decrease the danger of flooding the Glades from lands. Even though the district seems to be in fair shape for the approaching season he stressed the fact that it would take but very little rain and wind to render a great portion of the land useless.

Harold Roenigk of the Pahokee Drainage District, East Beach Drainage District, Pelican Lake Drainage District and East Shore Drainage District estimated that approximately 10,166 acres is devoted to sugar cane with 2500 acres devoted to rams and cattle. This leaves a total of 24,334 acres for cultivation not including the acreage taken up by towns and residences in those four districts.

According to Hugh J. Bratley, secretary-treasurer of the newly formed Island Drainage District, an approximate figure of 1500 acres is available for produce raising with approximately 250 acres devoted to cattle finishing. The remaining 450 acres is under water and is not available for any type of farming.

In these five districts the total acreage amounts to approximately 70,000 acres of land with 2250 acres devoted to cattle, 1600 acres in rams and 21,574 acres in sugar cane. This leaves a total of 43,772 acres that may be devoted to truck crops and produce.

In addition to the above figures there are approximately 7500 acres under individual pump that is not in the drainage districts. About all this land is dry enough to grow and this makes the total farmable acreage in this region approximately 50,992 acres as to the 65,000 or 70,000 acres farmed last year.

Of the approximately potential 51,000 acres that may be used for farming, 10,000 acres has been plowed and made ready for farming with a 1000 acres plowed in celery and lettuce.

CONSERVATION OFFICE
 In low lands there might be less birds but on high lands there would be increased coveys of birds. Also that the turkeys, a more hardy bird, would not be lacking.

The critical situation bevilages that might otherwise be denied them.

Mr. Wright informed the assemblage of the new game regulations for the present hunting season, just promulgated by the Game Commission. The dove season is from December 2 to 20 to February 1; and the deer season in Districts 1 and 4, the latter being the local one, November 20th to January 5, except Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. The hunting season opening and closing will be uniform all over the state, for the first time in the history of the Game Department, which sportsmen deem is an advance step in conservation work.

Mr. Wright stated that while there was some unlawful hunting and poaching going on in Palm Beach County, it was not of large dimension. He stated that Collier County once one of the worst counties in the state for illegal hunting and trapping, in the past 18 months had been cleaned up, with 31 arrests and convictions, and some 10 more cases on docket for hearing. That Hendry County, which was not in his district, was one spot that was not so good from an illegal game hunting standpoint, but the Game Department hoped soon to have an improvement program in force there, as well as in parts of Okeechobee County.

Mr. Wright stated that the Game Commission has added new wardens to the force, many hunters, joys and airplanes for carrying on their work, and that the inaugurated program would see much better sports and stiffer enforcement, as courts are lacking up complaints in which convictions were obtained in a very satisfactory manner.

Plans for the big fish fry at the lake dock on Sept. 19th, are going on nicely. On September 17 and 18, George Reels plans to lead a group of volunteer pool fishermen, to go down the Devil Garden section, to catch the supply of fish, bream and perch, which will be needed for the fish fry for they cannot now be legally secured from the big lake.
